I've been playing really good golf recently. And the key is to not think and worry about playing well. It's such a paradox. But it's like that for everything. Worrying very rarely gets me anywhere. I'm finding that I need to think way less than I think I do hahaha

But imagine if there were space whales
And we could see them in the sky day and night
Like planet sized

WAIT I DREAM ABOUT SPACE WHALES WHAT THE FUCK! HOW'D U DO THAT

bro

Im in everyones dreams all the time thats why nothing feels real

And i think there's like lavender soap. Or soap that smells like caramel. And it's i think eight o' clock at night. And i just got back from like a SUPER intense hike, so im covered in dirt. COVERED in dirt. Like so i have dirt lines above my socks and above the seams to my pants. And so i get to get SO clean and then i sleep in the comfiest bed that looks out through huge floor to ceiling windows into a night sky.....

Hate to say it but I love cold showers after working out

Also in December me and my two friends were on shrooms at their beach house and we ran into the freezing ocean naked then ran back and took a shower together and I really felt at peace and together

Has anyone here ever experienced texas water. Like calcium

Bro YES

I was born in mineral wells texas

HOLY GOD IM SO PROUD OF HOW FAR YOUVE MADE IT

YOOOOOOOOOOO hahahahahhahahhahha. What's good. Dude you're stinkin' 35! That's crazy! Are you married? Do you have kids?!?! HAHHA little me's. I hope you just fuckin' did it. Dog keep goin'. I'm sure it's been tough. Damn I can't even imagine! But you fuckin' made it. I'm proud of you. I love you. Life man. I'm all scattered I wish I had somethin' better to tell ya. But I'm sure you're just happy to hear from me. Right now I feel like I'm on the precipice. But something's holdin' me back! Back from where? I think from living my dreams! From being free. From thinking. Being myself. Did you figure it out? Did you become a rockstar hahahah that'd be crazyyyy. My head is so full right now I can barely even think. You know what I mean. Cause you're me!

I think there is so much pressure, with social medial and stuff, to say the right thing. I think so many people are entitled to take up space on the internet bc its so easy to have a platform and i hope you in the future you reall understand that its more important to actually figure out what you believe in and what makes the world right instead of just saying words to say them. There are so many wasted words. By the time your 35, did you put the words to use? Did you learn new ones? Did you learn words in a different language? I hope you didnt think so much about the words and more about the thoughts that go into each string of sentences.

35 years old.. Gosh bro. I really hope you have a family .

3. do you feel like it's easy to be honest here? why or why not?

We are ALL STUPID THIRSTY

what things have you done/said/thought/felt recently that you are really proud of yourself for?

Realizing how valuable my energy is.

Admitted that there are certain things that at this point in my life i am just not strong enough to do. Physically and mentally. And that thats fucking okay i dont always have to pushing my limits. Probably just for some sort of validation. Because im supposed to be able to endure things that maybe i dont have to. Does that make any sense??

Being open to social interactions

Yes. so proud. You are worthy of the best.

Not responding to that person's text

Waiting to respond to their text

I'm just straight up downing cookies right now no lieeeeeeeeeee Hahaha shoul've waited for the prompt

Making myself breakfast this morning

For reasons far too complicated to get into, showing up to this

"I'm really cool and sweet and someone would be lucky to get to fall in love with me"

CRIED so hard for a whole day because i got amazing news from a doctor. Crying WOW. such an amazing feeling . relief crying is just... i dont think there is a better feeling than relief. All pleasure stems from it. Anyways, I am PROUD of myself for healing. And Thankful for everyone who was forced to heal as well.

Maybe even being honest here? I don't know if i'm proud of that but

Like, proud?

Omg proud of cutting my mom off when she was monologuing

HAHAHAHAHAHAHA oh my god HUGE act of self-love

That is relatable. Proud of you.

<3

Okay, maybe i do feel connected to you all?

I told off that creep at the beach. Both of them. Aw were all doing such good things for ourselves please write the name of your first and/or biggest crush in elementary/middle/high school

Elias. The guitar guy. We would sing together. But i was way too young. Super weird.

And then i literally fell in love with my best friend

Had a huge crush on this guy named sam. HE IS SO TOXIC. I am proud that i grew up and realized i am smarter than that man and manipulation is not love. But i had such a big crush on him.

Hhahahahahahhaahahahah first was Gillian Sullivan in 1st grade and second was Sabina Smith from 2nd to 5th grade.

Megan.....

than any words could... ^^^^

Those 5 dots tell a story more emotional how's your relationship with words?

I hate those motherfuckers. And they are the most important thing in the world to me. So beautiful, so fucking frustrating. Why cant we just speak in images. I just throw words at feelings and hope they make sense. And all i fucking do is write

I love em cause they make no sense by themselves and can be strung together to be really funny in one context and really mean in another. And it's all about how you say em. But they can sometimes get in the way of communication of the feeling. When I'm tryna search for the words. And people get really sensitive to WHAT you say. I'm like fuck it say anything. But at the same time it would be kinda... I have no idea actually I love words I love em.

I also think we don't realize the words we're using and what they actually mean. So at the same time it's like be careful with the words you use cause they mean a lot. They reflect a lot.

yes....

Its my job to write but its also my release button.

So many wasted words.. So many ones i will not know or understand. Almost all the ones I know are redundant compared to the actual things they are forced to compartmentalize..

Huh. i never feel like they capture....well....i do always feel like.....wow i don't know. Hahahahahaha wait this is a really funny answer so far to this question i'm like "uhhhh idk uhuh maybe? Let's see" hahahahaha. ldk! I think it's cool. I love them a lot. They've let me speak a lot of feelings to people. Let me communicate a lot of things that were then understood. That were felt! Can you believe that? I put a feeling i had into words and then someone else felt something? Like a Dang this song is hitting with this. Like. That's magic I'm pretty sure. Yeah. so . magical? . i think magical is my answer .

THIS IS THE BEST SONG YEAHHHHH. YEAHHHHH

how's your relationship with letting go?

Best thing that's ever happened to me

Is ghosting unhealthy?

No burned bridges... i need closure that ensures any misunderstanding is remedied. But sometimes it urkes me that ASSHOLES will never get what they deserve... something im working on letting go.

Like... i know it will benefit me to let it go. Because nothing can change certain things. But the fact that life can change in a second.. Wow.

I feel you i feel u dude

It's tough cause it's like you don't know anything else before you let go, but it's usually the right thing to do. Hahaha "right thing." Who fuckin' knows mannnnnnn. I really categorize things in my life as right and wrong. Some shit just feels wrong. And then I feel so bad for doing it. And then im like just let it go! Forgive yourself! It's all goood it's not that bad hahahaha.

HAAAAHA EVERYONE'S QUIET.

Yeah man super scary. But also super real. Also like i love it, like i love letting things go. Sometimes i worry too much. Like i worry i like letting things go too much

Also there's different kinds of letting things go right?

Like can i let go of a really good or bad day? totally

Can i let go of someone i loved?

Can i let go of someone who i loved but who really like, who treated me horribly? Why is it harder to let go of someone who treated me like shit?

I know time is the biggest healing aid.

So much of letting go is literally forgetting.. Having a bad memory is a huge healing factor.

Theres this one thing i cant decide if i want to let go of or not. But the rest are downstream

Smoke to forget! Itll all be okay!

Hahhaa. It will be okay <3

My friends. Growing up. The innocence of age. Biodiversity. BIODIVERSITY. Native plants flourishing. Un-mowed lawns!!! Barefeet on hot pavement. SOMEONE HOLDING MY FACE. being loved and loving with abandon. Embracing all aspects of love. Anything that comes with a feeling is needed. And that is not supposed to make sense
